

WHEREAS, Cox Farm is a family-owned and operated business that has provided fresh produce to Wichita and surrounding areas since Roy and Daisy Cox founded it in 1926; and

WHEREAS, the country store has been a community staple at 6059 S. Seneca for the past 92 years, selling fresh produce including vine-ripened tomatoes, peaches, watermelon, cantaloupe, and sweet corn. The store was also known for its dressings, jellies, jams, preserves, and local raw honey; and

WHEREAS, many families returned year after year to make memories and enjoy the corn maze and pumpkin patch every fall; and

WHEREAS, current owners, Ron and Vickie Stein, are ready for a well-deserved retirement after working seven days a week, twelve hours a day.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that I, Chairman David T. Dennis, and the Board of Sedgwick County Commissioners, do hereby proclaim the week of October 20, 2018, as in Sedgwick County and would like to thank Cox Farm for being a steady local business in our community for more than 90 years. Congratulations on your retirement.
